Energy projects

Together with partners we are conducting the whole range of activities for our international investors who are specifically looking for “waste to energy” and/or “renewable energy” investments. Here is a typical sequence for developing a waste to energy project for international investors below:

- Feasibility study/Project Development Plan(PDP) by Waste to Energy International

- Selection and designing of the technology tailored to the specific waste to energy project

- Briefing the technology provider in project details

- Selecting of peripheral equipment
- Defining total project costs for financial model
- Establishing the docs in the required structure for the financial model including concession agreement, off-take-agreement with guaranteed FIT (feed-in-tariffs), land lease agreement, financing costs etc.
- Sourcing EPC contractor and O&M company
- Establishing financial model for long-term investment with debt/equity structure and acceptable IRR level
- Investment memorandum and associated documents
- Presentation of investor-requested docs and selection of investor groups
- Performing due diligence
- Establishing project time schedule
- Initiating the project including share structure, founding of local SPV, financial SPV etc.
- Processing the complete project through Waste to Energy International financial SPV together
